A WEEK IN T

During the week Super Soccer's Patrick Galloway gained an insight into the life of a Super League player, trailing Michael Raeburn for a week. Michael had been a regular starter in the Berries line-up up until an ankle injury sustained against Leichhardt in round six. This week, not only did he juggle his busy schedule as a full-time teacher, but he also tried to get his ankle ready for the Berries round 9 clash with the Central Coast Coasties.

MONDAY

Michael Raeburn's week is well underway by 6:30am on a Monday morning in the suburb of Epping on the southern outskirts of the Hornsby shire. He's been up since 6:00am and is about to jump straight into the car with wife Nicole and two-and-a-half year old daughter Chelsea to be dropped off at Epping station to get to work at 8:45am.

A full-time Computing Studies teacher at St. Mary's Cathedral College, Michael has quite a busy schedule outside his soccer. He's in a similar situation to most Super League players, combining full-time work with his soccer commitments.

He leaves school at 4:00pm to catch the train back to Epping, where he's picked up by Nicole and dropped off at Carlingford for a physio appointment on his ankle. Michael's hoping for the clearance to be back in round 9 against the Coasties, putting an end to what has been a frustrating two weeks on the sideline.

Fortunately he gets the green light to test out the ankle by training with the side on Wednesday. Depending on how well the ankle pulls up will have a big say on whether or not he takes the field on Sunday.

Michael then arrives back home for dinner at 6:30pm, too late to venture out to Parklea where his team-mates are taking on a Korean First Division side in a friendly. At 7:30pm it's time for Michael's weekly dose of English Premier League Soccer, and he sits down to relax - maybe even reminisce about the time when he and brother Bryan trialled with Newcastle in 1993 after a season with North Ryde (now Ryde City). Unfortunately Michael was told that he was 'too old' - despite only being 21 years of age!

TUESDAY

Tuesday begins with a similar start to the day - up with the sparrows and then onto the train to get into work for a 9:00am start.

After spending some time in the afternoon helping organise a school ski trip to Perisher, Michael heads home at 4:15pm to go bike riding with his two-and-a-half year old daughter Chelsea. Nicole has to attend a 'parents and friends' evening at Chelsea's pre-school tonight so Michael's been given the task of baby-sitting - I wonder who's baby-sitting who!?

After spaghetti for dinner it's time to put Chelsea to bed. Michael then does a weights session, the first of three that he plans to do during the week. Those three sessions combine with the usual Canterbury training sessions on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights for what is very involved training regime.

Finally it's time to try to get some sleep himself, it's an important day in the week tomorrow - Michael will get to see whether or not he'll declare himself fit for Canterbury's game on the weekend.

WEDNESDAY

On Wednesday the day doesn't start too well, with an accident at Meadowbank station causing big delays on the City Rail network. Michael's caught right in the middle of it, arriving late for work. Fortunately he had period one off - so he didn't miss a class.

His ankle is feeling and looking good, with a large amount of the swelling that had been a problem now gone - tonight would be the first serious hit-out after the injury occurred back in round 6.

Michael arrives home with half an hour to spare before heading off for the 35 minute drive to Henson Park from his home in Epping. After a quick snack he makes the journey to Marrickville and heads out onto the paddock to train with squad.

John Xipolitas has planned a tough session for his side tonight but despite lots of running, the ankle holds up well and at the end of training Michael begins to think about his comeback game as he leaves the ground at 8:30pm.

That night, Michael really feels the effects of not training for two weeks pulling up quite sore and then waking up during the middle of the night with cramps in his calf.

THURSDAY

After his usual morning routine, Michael arrives at school and begins his day teaching in the school's Computer labs with his students.

That afternoon, after refereeing a soccer game, Michael's straight off to his final physio appointment before Sunday's game. The ankle passed the test with flying colours last night and Michael is encouraged to keep exercising the ligaments as he has been doing at various times throughout the day.

In the evening Michael and Nicole continue working on a new room up-stairs for another addition to the family - expected in five weeks. A new cot was delivered that afternoon and it's time to work out where it will go.

After another weights session, along with some ankle stretches and exercises, Michael's off to bed at 11:00pm.

FRIDAY

Today Michael has a class for five out of the six periods in the day, so it's a tough schedule for the final day of the week - especially when he has to go without lunch thanks to spending money on a travel pass that he thought he didn't need to renew earlier this morning!

The day concludes at 4:00pm and Michael's back on the train heading home to Epping, where he'll have a quick snack and then head down to Henson Park for the second time this week.

At 6:30pm training begins and John Xipolitas runs through some shooting drills with his squad before having a light game. A few players are spoken to about their role in the upcoming match against the Coasties but Michael eludes any comment - it's expected that he'll start on Sunday.

That night he heads straight from training over to visit a friend from his school at Epping Boys High, where he attended until graduating in 1991. From here it's back home to get some sleep before a busy weekend.

SATURDAY

Despite not having to wake up for work at the usual hour, having a 2 and a half year-old in the house means that Michael's up at

Michael Rodriguez

7:00am riding the bike with Chelsea, giving Nicole some time to herself.

Then at 10:00am the family head off to visit some of Nicole's relatives for lunch at the Central Coast. He arrives back home at 4:00pm and brother Bryan comes round for a visit for dinner.

Michael follows his pre-match dinner tradition and has a bowl of rice to get the carbohydrates up for his game tomorrow. He hits the sack at 11:00pm after putting Chelsea to sleep and watching 'Rounders' (a movie) with Nicole.

SUNDAY

On game day Michael gets the only sleep in of his week, getting up at 10:00am. Breakfast comprises of some grapes, oranges and bananas. Although not too fussed about what he eats in particular on match day, Michael does like to make sure it's the 'right kind' of food.

At 11:30am Michael takes Chelsea out to lunch at Eastwood for a light lunch and a couple of chocolate milkshakes. After arriving home, Michael packs his bag and then makes the journey south to Henson Park at 3:30pm.

The game kicks-off at 5:00pm and Michael's in the sheds at 4:00pm well before his team-mates, getting a good rub down and having his ankle strapped to stop the ligaments from stretching again during the game.

Michael starts the match - and is named Captain by John Xipolitas, seeing that the club Captain Matthew Percy has been sidelined since round three with a knee injury.

The side goes down to the Coasties 2-0 in wet conditions at Henson Park, with Michael one of the sides shining lights in the defeat. A disappointing result for Michael seeing he'd worked so hard during the week to prepare himself for the match.

Michael then has a shower and leaves the ground at 7:30pm, with the ankle and body feeling quite sore after a typically physical match against the Coasties. From here it's back home for a quiet family dinner. Then it's off to bed at 10:00pm for an early start tomorrow morning.

A game of two halves, but an inspired first half performance from St. George was enough to defeat the Bankstown City Lions 2-1 at Jensen Park last Sunday afternoon. The Saints coming off a 5-2 hiding at the expense of Eastern Suburbs were solid but a little unconvincing as they racked up two goals in the first 21 minutes and then set about defending that lead for long periods in the second half. At times the football was not pretty or brilliant for the large crowd but St George showed enough to convince their fans they are back on track and worthy of a place in the top five.

Going into the game the Lions were without Michael Lemezina and Bryan Raeburn who were both serving the first week or a two week suspension while influential midfielder Nabil Codmani was also a spectator nurturing a strained groin. The lack of key personnel was a telling factor as Lions coach Lube Jancev shuffled his starting side to get an even balance across the park.

When referee Nick Asargiotis blew the opening whistle Jensen Park was remarkably bathed in bright sunshine. The driving rain that had been a factor in the postponement of other Super League games was conspicuously absent as the Jensen Park surface looked more like a bowling green than a football pitch, a real credit to the ground staff. The Lions took full advantage of the conditions early on and were full of running eager to test out Saints keeper Les Bihari. In the second minute Goce Trposki was found unmarked in the box by a Mendo Lozevski through-ball but Bihari was equal to the task racing off his line to smother the shot.

Despite a positive start, the wind was well and truly taken out of the Lions sails when an unintentional error by City defender Tony Trpcevski cost his side a penalty. Racing forward to chest down a bouncing ball in the penalty box, Trpcevski accidentally allowed the ball to hit his raised hands and with referee Nick Asargiotis only a few feet away, he pointed to the spot. Jim Bakis stepped up for St George and nailed the penalty despite the best efforts of Lions goalkeeper Zlatko Josevski.

Eleven minutes later St George had their second. Skipper Mark Brennan cantered forward with the football and unleashed one his trademark left footed drives from just outside the penalty box. Deflected by a Lions defender the ball fell to Petratos who nailed his sides second with a shot to the left of the diving Zlatko Josevski.

At two nil up the home side were stunned and the standard of their play started to suffer. They seemed to lack purpose and they continually gave away the ball in midfield allowing the Saints midfield of Brennan, Augerinos and Papagerogiou to dictate the pace of the game. Papageorgiou replacing Archie Markopoulos on the right was one of Saints best. His hard running was a highlight as his sides dominance in midfield became apparant.

Frustrated by his sides lack of ambition to chase the game Lions coach Lube Jancev made two changes before halftime in a move designed to fire up his troops. But it wasn't until eleven minutes into the second half that he unleashed Zia Younan from the bench that the game changed. With his introduction the Lions suddenly had a targetman on the forward line willing to take the game to the Saints. As the clouds started to build menacingly in the west so did it appear the Lions were about to rain goals on the Saints. Only a few minutes after being on the field Younan hit the right hand upright after dancing his way past two St George defenders and smashing a right footed drive which had all but beaten Les Bihari.

At the other end a minute later the Saints could have well had their third. Against the run of play they were awarded a free kick 40 yards out. Brennan sent the ball into the 6 yard box only to see Augerinos and Bakis up end Lions goalkeeper Zlatko Josevski. Despite the ball ending up in the back of the net referee Nick Asargiotis called that Josevski had been unfairly impeded and awarded a free kick.

In the 76th minute the breakthrough finally came. After a number of close chances up front the ball fell to midfielder George Issa a good 30 yards out from goal. Out in the open and with the crowd urging him on Issa took two steps and cannoned a 25 yard thunderbolt past the unsighted Les Bihari into the net. It was now 2-1 and we really had a ball game.

The final quarter of an hour was as frantic as it gets. The Lions pushed defender Richard Luksic onto the forward line and punched some good long balls at him to trying to use the stoppers height to advantage. It almost came off five minutes from time when he managed to nod one on for Zia Younan, only to see the livewire striker head the ball harmlessly over the bar from a mere five yards out.

While the Lions simply couldn't muster a decisive blow to square the ledger the Saints to their credit were cool under pressure and their efforts impressed Lions coach Lube Jancev.

"They play good quality soccer and they are by far and away the best side we have come up against thus far in the season" said Jancev. "I have a young squad that lacks a little experience but we will get stronger as the year goes on and learn from our mistakes."

John Sentas was also full of praise for his opponents but expressed some concern over his side's inability to finish the game they had so clearly dominated in the first half.

"We should have buried them" he said "but we allowed them to fight back and to their credit they made a real game of it." Sentas also praised Lions goalkeeper Zlatko Josevski who had an outstanding game for the home side, organising his defence.

In front of a good crowd which included Super League coaches Joe Watson, John Turner and Roberto Viera, the Lions can feel a little disappointed that their efforts didn't produce a better result. Some poor finishing late in the game and some desperate defending by their opponents cost them a share of the points. With Bonnyrigg at the Serbian Centre their next opponent, Lube Jancev is not worried but does concede they will be in for one very tough game. For the Saints, they join the Leichhardt Tigers in top spot on the ladder ahead of a crucial home game against Manly.

Central Coast Coasties v Parramatta Eagles

Pluim Park, Saturday 11 March

Central Coast 2 (84' Matthews, 90+' Peatey) - Parramatta 2 (10' Delicata, 82' Joseski)

Central Coast: Meier, Matthews, Steele, Daley, Peatey, Demery, Sontag, Byrn, Roberts, Preston (Surridge 73'), Hokin (Bennett 63')

Shots: 22
Corners: 10
Fouls: 9
Booked: Demery

Parramatta: Holmes, S Xuereb, Reveley, Bazdaric, Trposki, Anderson (Panzarino 73'), Mittiga, Joseski, Chips, Delicata (M Meilak 63'), Borg

Shots: 8
Corners: 3
Fouls: 7
Booked: Reveley

Super Soccer Rating: 3

Summary: The only highlight of a lacklustre first-half was a clinical display of teamwork that led to Eagles forward Ben Delicata converting a left-wing cross in the 10th minute. The Coasties had the lion share of possession as the half progressed but finished off their moves with wayward shots.

In-form striker Nikolce Joseski put the visitors 2-0 up when he rounded Gary Meier and shot into an empty net with 8 minutes remaining. However, the Coasties have proven themselves to be a strong finishing team this year and showed this yet again with late goals from Shaun Matthews and Adam Peatey.

ROUND 11 PREVIEW

by Greg Stock

Last weekend's wet weather forced the postponement of 5 games in Super League disrupting many teams preparation for round 11. The Central Coast were one team who got a game in at home last Saturday night when they snatched a 2-2 draw against the high flying Parramatta Eagles. This week they travel south to meet the formidable Blacktown City at the Gabbie.

Super League fans were robbed of seeing the much anticipated clash between the Demons and the Tigers last Saturday night by mother nature, meaning Blacktown will go into the match without a game for two weeks. The Demons form has been a little inconsistent of late and their home record of 2 wins from 4 starts could be tested this week as the Coasties are playing an attacking style of football and are really pushing every game to take 3 points. Peter Preston has recaptured the form that won him last season's Super League Gold Medal and he will be one to watch in this game.

At the Serbian Centre, last week's only losing side, Bankstown City, will be really tested against a red hot Bonnyrigg side. Lions coach, Lube Jancev, revealed to SS that he is not worried too much by the White Eagles recent blistering form preferring to point out his side's great recent away run where they have won four from five starts. Jancev will be missing Michael Lemezina and Bryan Raeburn who are still under suspension but he will have influential midfielder Nabil Codmani back from a week off with a groin strain. Bonnyrigg coach, John Turner, was an interested spectator at Jensen Park last week as he nursed an injured left hand courtesy of a work incident. He assures SS that he will be fit and raring to go on Saturday night and will have his team pumped up for a big effort in a game that has his side looking for their fifth win on the trot. James Warburton is the only Bonnyrigg player destined to miss the clash still carrying an injured leg.

In the other Saturday night match, Eastern Suburbs will travel to Lynwood Park to meet Macarthur. Since notching their first win in round 6, Easts look to have become a completely different team. Enigmatic striker Jimmy Aschner is one such player to have turned his season around having scored a goal in everyone of the last 5 Wanderers games. His inspired form and that of fellow forward Ben Deighan will have to be closely watched by the Rams defence. The Rams have come through a horror draw a little the worse for wear and coach Brian Dene is looking for a solid performance to get something going for his side. Unfortunately the club will be without Gary Attard for sometime after the young utility underwent surgery the week before last on an injured leg. Macarthur's last three home games have netted just one point and Easts would have to fancy themselves capable of causing the home side some problems.

Sunday sees St George at home to Manly-Warringah at St George Stadium. The Saints bounced back from a 5-2 trouncing at home against Easts to defeat the Lions 2-1 in last Sunday's only Super League fixture. Saints coach John Sentas told SS his side is back on track after being blown off the park by the Wanderers. Sentas conceded Manly will be tough but after seeing his side's disciplined win over the Lions last week the Dolphins will really have their work cut out. Cameron Watson the Saints young midfielder has left the club to return to his native Queensland but the form of young Manuel Papageorgiou was really something special last week and he more than makes up for the loss. In the Manly camp a 7-0 thrashing at the hands of a ruthless Tigers outfit two weeks back did nothing to inspire confidence in the camp following on from a 2-1 win at Jensen Park the week prior. The inclusion of David Turnbull and the Webb brothers have given the side some much needed experience and taken a bit of pressure off both Keith Long and Mark Beldham. Still only two points shy of the bottom of the ladder Manly will need to really start chasing some points to avoid a potential battle at the wrong end of the table in the second round.

Not having scored a goal since February 5th the Berries have been a club in crisis, shaken up last week by the axing of long serving coach John Xipolitas. His replacement is none other than former Socceroo, Jimmy Patikas, who was once rumoured to be coaching the Berries at the beginning of the season. Patikas will be hosting his former Socceroo and Sydney City team mate in 'jinky' Joe Watson when he brings his Bulls side to Henson Park on Sunday afternoon. Canterbury look like having their postponed game against Sutherland played on Thursday night and if that is the case it will be a good opportunity for Patikas and his squad to have at least one game together going into this tough match. For the Bulls their season has been a little disappointing after many were predicting them to be nearer the top of the ladder this season. Some key injuries and suspensions have cost the Bulls in key games with Joe Watson telling SS that he has been struggling in recent weeks to put a fully fit side on the park each week. This game should be a really rugged encounter as both sides look desperate and it would be a brave person to predict the result between these two evenly matches teams.

Parramatta again proved their own worst enemy last week when they allowed the Coasties to score two goals in the final ten minutes at Pluim Park last week. No doubt coach Roberto Viera will be keen to make amends in front of a home crowd against a Sutherland side that is best described as a 'struggling' one. Eddie Giraldo has left the Sharks to join the Eagles in a midweek transfer deal and he will boost the Eagles stocks in defence. The Sharks had their game last week postponed but expect to play the Berries on Thursday night at Seymour Shaw. Sutherland coach John Lavin is still desperately keen to continue the good form shown against the Rams last start and was full of praise for the contribution of striker Matty Merralls in a position that has been causing Lavin some selection headaches. Last season's trip to Melita Stadium was an absolute disaster when the Eagles walloped the Sharks 6-0 and Lavin will be keen to have his side put in a more competitive effort.

The final game looks somewhat like a mismatch on paper as the Panthers play just their third away game for 2000 when they travel to Lambert Park to meet the Tigers. The Tigers much anticipated clash with Blacktown was postponed due to the weather last week but the week prior they tore Manly to pieces at home with 7 goals. Joe Bruni and Steve Karavatakis were in a scoring frenzy and if the Panthers' stoppers can't do their job it could really be a cricket score. To Penrith's credit coach Stan Ackerley has remained very positive of his side's chances and has remained calm in keeping his young squads mind on the job of avoiding a dog fight at the bottom end of the table. Ackerley spent many seasons playing at Lambert Park and will be very keen to have his side put in an inspired performance - but on paper you'd have to say a Tigers win looks the only possibility.

WIN!

Taken just before kick-off, something seems to have their attention.

If I Could

We asked Sutherland Sharks' Dennes Olla what would he do if he could ....

... be the coach of a club for a day

It would be Juventus, but then again with a club with so much class, style, power, talent and finesse, they don't need a coach!

.... be another player for a day

Dino Zoff - to be competitive and win a World Cup at the age of 40 is a tremendous achievement.

.... be another sportsman for a day

Michael Jordan - an athlete who dominated his sport for over a decade with power, grace and style.

... correct one mistake I've made

Never to pick my nose at a set of traffic lights!

.... give advice to young players

Set your goals and with hard work and determination, you will get there.

.... be anything other than a footballer

Be a stunt double for Jackie Chan.

.... get my hands on $1 million to spend in a day

I'd buy an F360 Modena F Ferrari, Haines Hunter 680cc Prowler fishing boat and the rest I'd give to charity.

.... have a free supply of one thing for the rest of my life

A packet of Tim Tams.

The Coaches:

Dale Eggleton by Peter Smith

If Central Coast were looking for the ideal club man when the coaching vacancy came up at the start of this season they surely found it when they appointed former captain and club appearance record holder Dale Eggleton to the role. Not only has he spent his entire career, including his junior days, with local teams but he was captain of the Coasties for no less than 11 years helping to guide them from the obscurity of the old Third Division to being a well regarded club in the Super League. Not only that but brother Geoff is the current Coasties Chairman. Not that partiality played a role in Dale's selection as the Coasties board was unanimous in their decision. Their faith that Eggleton was the man for the job seems far from misplaced based on early season form.

Just one third of the way into the season the team have already gathered more points than they did in the whole of the 1999 season. This despite having a largely unchanged squad from last year although Eggleton has recruited wisely in a number of key positions. Adam Peatey from Ryde City, Shaun Matthews from Wallsend and Peter Ritchie from Newcastle Breakers being the most significant arrivals.

However ,the fledgling coach is reticent to single out any one individual.

"I like to think that all players at the club across all the grades are important. I'd prefer not to rely on one or two individuals, rather I'd prefer to have an all round strong squad. Indeed for our recent game v Canterbury we were forced to bring in five new players and much to my delight those players performed admirably and we came away with all three points."

Indeed Eggleton is looking at the big picture for the Coasties in terms of player development and the future of the club, realising that tapping into the vast array of local talent is the best way to try and establish the club as a Super League powerhouse.

"Up here on the Coast we have a burgeoning nursery area, we have a heap of talent both at the club and playing locally, especially between the ages of 17-21. It really is an area we are very strong in and if we can build on this over the next few years I see no reason why we can't match it with the very best in Super League."

One of the first steps in the new framework being put in place to build on junior development is the signing of the club's first apprentice. 17 year old striker Peter Leary having already made a couple of first team appearances in his debut season at this level. Further to that the appointment of Newcastle coaching legend Jim Foley as Central Coast Youth Development Officer could prove to be a masterstroke considering Foley's proven track record.

However the real innovation at the club must surely be the introduction of a three man coaching team made up of long term First Grade stalwart Andrew Ollier, Socceroo goalkeeping star Terry Greedy and Eggleton. Whilst Eggleton is officially First Grade coach, Ollier Second Grade coach and Greedy Goalkeeping coach, all three combine their collective thoughts in deciding both tactics and team selection for the top team. Certainly a unique set up although Eggleton likes to use the Liverpool 'boot room' as an analogy, referring to the success the famous English club have had over the years with their policy of an inclusive coaching structure.

Another innovation of the new coaching team is that the First Grade and Under 21's are treated as one squad. This allows for the Under 21 players to make the step up to first grade without joining a whole new set up or having to learn a different style of game.

Anyone that has watched the Coasties play this season will have seen not only the pleasing style but the confidence with which the team is playing and based on his footballing ideals Eggleton can take much of the credit.

"As far as style of play goes, I like to play a positive brand of football with players getting forward at every opportunity. I think its fair to say we have underachieved somewhat over the last few seasons and I have tried to install in the players the need to believe in themselves and to be honest I think it's paying dividends. You only have to look at the lift in the players in those games in which we have fallen behind. I try and install in the players the belief that they can compete with the very best in the competition, after all everyone only has two arms and legs and if you are well prepared no one's unbeatable."

Admirable sentiments and something Liverpool legend Bill Shankly can be imagined expressing. Indeed if the Coasties coaching triumvirate led by Eggleton can imitate just a portion of the Anfield club's success, Dale Eggleton and indeed the Central Coast soccer fraternity as a whole, will be well rewarded for their many years of dedication in improving the local game.

ROUND 3 PREVIEW AND SUMMARY

FRASER PARK v RYDE CITY GUNNERS

Fraser Park supporters are really looking forward to their first game of the season on home turf. A festival was planned to coincide with the game last weekend which was washed out by the Saturday afternoon. The Portuguese community danced and partied from 1 o'clock on Sunday until well into the night and would certainly have swelled the crowd for the game scheduled against Bathurst.

Coach Tony Dunn and his managerial team are working overtime to secure the services of several new players from overseas, plus the return of a former NSL and Super League midfielder who has turned down a lucrative UK contract to join the side. If clearances come through in time a new Frenchman and a former English professional will be available for selection for the Ryde City game this weekend.

Ryde are team building and may take some time to gel in their return to the Division 1 ranks. Coach John McKie, the former Melita Eagles star and one time Ryde player himself, has a big job ahead of him but has recruited wisely plucking some good players from local competitions and securing Phil Treharne from Fairfield to bolster the midfield.

Fraser will be looking for maximum points on their first appearance at their Marrickville headquarters.

AUBURN UNITED v ROCKDALE CITY SUNS

This game should sort out if Rockdale are the early favourites, following two 3-0 victories on the trot. Against Bathurst in the first round they impressed and they followed that up with a clear cut win by that same margin over Ryde City. Rockdale are a very potent force when on song and they had Ryde back pedaling early in last Sunday's game at the Soccer Centre.

The game is nominally at Garside Park, but that ancient ground is not considered up to standard and another venue is being sought for this fixture.

Another 3-0 Rockdale win is quite possible, but supporters will recall that Auburn have upset them badly in the past when unfancied so should be on their guard again.

DULWICH HILL V A C UNITED

Dulwich Hill return to the scene of their first round triumph against Hajduk Wanderers, Arlington Oval, to face the very powerful A C United side in what looms as the game of the round.

Dulwich still have some players to come back from injury including Brazilian ace Alex dos Santos and strong striker Zlatko Momircevski. They had a good training match at Arncliffe on Sunday among themselves and pulled up well.

A C United are promising to announce the signing of a high profile player in coming weeks, but so far no sign of him.

Sunday's game at Arlington should be a beauty and with both games there being called off last weekend there should be no concerns about the state of the pitch.

HURSTVILLE CITY MINOTAURS v MSC LIVERPOOL

Last season the club now known as MSC Liverpool and then known as Moorebank defied the odds to secure a double against the Minotaurs who were beaten in their first outing against Stanmore Hawks at Ernie Smith Reserve on day one.

The solid showing by MSC especially in midfield should enable them to make Hurstville work very hard for the points at the Moorebank venue, the Hurstville side's temporary home pending completion of the cricket season at Hurstville Oval.

With such a short distance to travel it becomes a derby, almost, making it easy for MSC to bring along plenty of support. Following their 1- 1 draw with Fraser Park in round one MSC may be able to go one better and claim all three points this time.

HAJDUK WANDERERS v ILLAWARRA LIONS

Hajduk were beaten by a good side in Dulwich Hill on the season's opening day and did look a good side, despite going down 3-0. Illawarra Lions, by contrast, secured a satisfactory 1-0 win away to Auburn and will be buoyant for a successful new campaign.

Given the unusual size and 'feel' of Hajduk's home ground at St Johns Park it may be difficult for the visitors to acclimatise on the occasion of their first visit to the stadium, Hajduk are a useful looking side again this season after securing promotion alongside Fraser Park. Illawarra had three sent off in their last game and they will serve their suspensions here and some players may get more than one match, depending on tribunal decisions.

BATHURST 75 v STANMORE HAWKS

Bathurst are at home once more and after a nervous start find another strong Sydney side on their doorstep.

Stanmore won away in the first round, but while Bathurst have lost players in the off season they still have the talented and highly respected duo of Mark Rooke and Scott Mutton to call upon and should not be dismissed.

Stanmore are a very good attacking side with the lightning fast Eddie Wong and the probing Eddie Briscoe to complement the strength of Soc Bakafoukas and Malcolm Adams.

If their defence can deal with the clever play of the Bathurst boys they could well pick up their second away win on the trot.

Did you know?

Greg Stock answers your questions about anything to do with soccer in NSW. If you have any, just write to us at ...

"Did you know?"
PO Box 6024, Blacktown BC, NSW 2148

If you can stump him, we'll give you two tickets to this year's Super League Grand Final.

Jim of Blacktown asked:

Q - I heard that 31 goals were once scored in total in a 1st grade and reserve grade fixture (3rd grade was forfeited). Could you please verify this?

A - The match occurred way back in 1958 between Canterbury-Marrickville and the now defunct Villawood side on August 23, 1958. Canterbury won the first grade fixture 14-0 and the reserve grade fixture 17-0 making it 31 goals for the afternoon at the picturesque Arlington Oval at Dulwich Oval.

The Canterbury-Marrickville side of 1958 was a star studded one under the coaching of former Socceroo coach 'Uncle' Joe Vlasits. It included such players as a then 17 year old John Watkiss, and internationals in Bobby Young, Barry Salisbury, Ron Brown and Ray Neal. The side not only walloped Villawood by 14 goals to nil but went onto win the 1958 Ampol-Kennard Cup, the Federation Cup and the Premiership all in the one year.

The Villawood club, on the other hand, had a disasterous season in 1958. They won only one game (with one draw) in 22 starts and conceeded a whopping 120 goals scoring just 14. It is little wonder that the side which was based on the nearby migrant camp in Villawood went defunct after that sole season in the top division.

Q - Who is the all-time record holder of number of games in either NSW Super League or State League?

A - The question is almost impossible to answer as the record of NSW football is sadly incomplete. Accurate records of appearances exist from 1960-1981, 1992-1994 and 1997-2000 but without the complete record it is impossible to be entirely accurate in such matters.

Jack Pollard's 1974 book "Soccer Records" lists several players as having played over 300 appearances in NSWSF State league: Phil Bottalico 460, John Watkiss 452, John Warren 328, Manfred Schaefer 316, Cliff Van Blerk 315, Les Scheinflug 311, Pat Hughes 302. But again without a full and accurate record it can't be discounted that others in the 1980s and 1990s haven't made as many if not more appearances.

SECOND DIVISION 2000

by Paul Goodwin

After a big wash-out last weekend and a break only one week into the season it's almost like starting all over again for most clubs this weekend.

Sydney University are back at Camdenville Oval on Saturday for the visit of Hurstville ZSC.

Hurstville are always slow starters and also have had a lot of personnel changes since the end of last season, a feature their hosts also share with them, after a big clear out during the off season.

This time last year the sides met and the Uni boys showed what was to come later by hammering them 5-3 and they proved it was no fluke by going on to the Grand Final.

On Sunday Greystanes are back at Bathurst Street Park to meet the disappointing Sydney District team, a side which has given them some tough games in the past on this ground. Greystanes seem to have come up much stronger this term and could get away with a very big win in front of their own enthusiastic supporters.

A couple of new players have been added to the ranks and these have boosted the threadbare stocks so Mark Crittenden and his men should make this one a cakewalk as they set out to gain promotion this season .

Mount Druitt were beaten by Greystanes last time out and have home advantage this week when old rivals Mount Pritchard come a-calling.

The Town Rangers under the astute eye of Greg Askew are a formidable outfit when in form and this is going to be a ding dong contest, with Mounties as last start winners starting favourites.

Mounties may find that counts for little when a derby is played and could return from Popondetta Park empty handed this year.

Hakoah are an interesting side, back in 2nd Division after an absence of several seasons.

In Ricky Budini and John Haynes they have a very able coaching team who have engineered their revival.

At home to the Central Coast Lakers, Hakoah could have an awkward game on their hands though one of their senior players was on hand to watch the Lakers on opening day and probably saw a few things his team could use to its advantage.

Hills United had a wash-out last weekend which was a big disappointment for them as they were keen to go on with the job against Central Coast Lakers before the Lakers found form.

Hills began the season smartly and coach Fred Mesiti is well aware that Belmore are likely to be more formidable opponents than last term. Belmore's exciting 3-2 win on day one is unlikely to be repeated here at Fred Caterson where local knowledge is a big advantage.

Finally the much improved University of NSW meets White City at David Phillips Field where both sides will be looking for their first win.

The students still appear to have defensive problems, while White City are a little underdone.

White City will get few tougher away games this season but if they are to win against this side it will be on Sunday before the students get into their full stride.

After training, homework, helping with the dishes, putting the garbage out, tidying your room etc, have you still got time to practise some football skills by yourself?

How to control the ball

Using the inside of your foot

1. To control the ball with the inside of your foot, your body should be square on and well-balanced.
2. Watch the ball carefully all the way and allow it to drop to around knee height.
3. Don't forget to cushion it, withdrawing your foot slightly and allowing the ball to fall at your feet.

Using the outside of your boot

1. If you are facing the goal, and the ball comes at your from the side, you need the outside of your foot to control it.
2. Watch the ball all the way onto your foot and use your arms to help with your balance.
3. You can allow the ball to drop a little bit lower than if you were using the inside of your foot.
4. You will need to deaden the impact as it strikes your foot on the outside area around your toes.

Skills Check

? Good balance
? Soften the impact
? Use all part of the body
? Bend forward

LG Socceroos' Richard Johnson (of Watford in England) practices with the inside of his foot!

Editorial

During the past week, the State Soccer Centre at Valentine Park has played host to another group of young hopefuls who want to embark on a football career. Under the tutelage of Soccer Australia's Technical Director of National Teams and Elite Programs, Les Scheinflug, AM, thirty boys who are eligible to play in the Under 17 world championships next year were put through their paces.

The Under 15 and Under 16 talent identification championships - to be held at Valentine Park in July this year - will also be used as a selection trial for the next Under 17 Australian squad.

Whoever is selected, the next group of Under 17s will have big boots to fill to emulate the success of last year's Under 17 squad who were runners-up to Brazil in the World U17 championships.

Australia's performance at international level is perhaps the most significant factor for soccer to gather momentum in Australia, and one of the major responsibilities of State and Terrtitory Soccer Federations is to develop young, talented players who are capable of performing in international teams at U17, U20, U23 (Olympic), Women's and senior levels.

It is not just an issue of success - but consistent success at the top international level. On the world football stage, this means one thing: the World Cup.

As we all know, it's the world's single biggest sporting event held every four years and we haven't made it there since 1974. While we may have come "oh so close" a few times, being close is not good enough, not only in world football terms but, more significantly, here in Australia. It's not just a question of making the next World Cup in Japan and Korea in 2002, but the one after that and the one after that - that should be Australian football's 'Project 2010' .... three consecutive World Cup appearances. So the Under 17 hopefuls of today could well be our Socceroo stars of 2010.

And you can help!

Late last year, the NSW Soccer Federation launched the NSW Soccer American Express Card. It not only allows you to wear your allegiance to soccer on plastic, but every time you use it, you're directly helping the development of talented, elite players through the programs run by the Federation and to which we contribute nationally.

It's a good deal too - no membership fee, 6-month introductory interest rate of just 8.95%, up to 55 days interest free and the well-known American Express membership rewards. If you want more information, contact American Express direct on 1300 36 32 79 and ask about the NSW Soccer American Express Card - and help us reach that goal of three consecutive World Cups every time you spend!
